â€˜Bharatâ€™ starring Salman Khan in the male lead is one of the much-awaited films of the running year. According to the reports from the close sources, actress Priyanka Chopra was supposed to play the female lead but the actress has opted out of the big project due to some bigger projects.

The film director Ali Abbas Zafar has officially announced that Priyanka will not be a part of the film. From the rumors around, it seems that Katrina Kaif would play the female lead in the film now. No official confirmation has been given by the filmmaker so far.
