

Salman Khan unveiled Loveratri poster this V-day

Posted by Sumit | February 14, 2018

Salman Khan gave his fans millions of reasons to enjoy the treat this Valentine's Day. Early morning, this Valentine's Day, the actor unveiled the first poster of Aayush Sharma's film, Loveratri. Aayush is the brother-in-law of Salman Khan. He is debuting with the film, Loveratri. For fans, it is important to note that Salman Khan is the producer of this film as well.

The poster released by the actor, features his brother-in-law, Aayush Sharma and the actress playing the lead role in the film. Warina Hussain would be seen acting with the upcoming star of the Bollywood film Industry. In the poster, the actress is seen doing the dandiya. The looks of the first poster say that this film is going to be a fun-packed romance film.

The film, Loveratri became the topic of talk when the actor, Salman Khan announced that he had found a girl. This was the official news that went on Twitter. The fans of the actor got excited and started visualizing that the actor might have found his lucky girl and soon he might get married. But after some time, the fact was highlighted that the actor was talking about the girl, Warina Hussain for the upcoming film, Loveratri.

Warina, half-Iraqi and half-Afghan actress cum model who began her career in the year 2013. The fans might have seen this girl in the Cadbury Dairy Milk Silk advertisement. With this film, both the actor and the actress would make their debut in the film Industry.

This film, Loveratri, is expected to hit the big screen on 21st September this year.