The spectacular day that was when India won the ODI match against South Africa by eight-wicket in the captaincy of Virat Kohli. India won the series of six matches as well by 5-1, and on top of that Virat has added 35th century in his bucket, which was his third century.

He was playing his 200th ODI match. He is the most successful captain as well as great chaser because this was his 13th century as a captain and 19th as successful chaser. He scored 558 runs in this series with a spectacular average of 186, with this he break the record of having 500 runs in bilateral ODI series and became the first batsman in the world. India won bilateral ODI series in approximately two decades on SA soil and Virat is the only Indian captain who led the team. Obviously, Lots of wishes are getting poured in from every industry be it cricket, film etc and from around the globe as he deserves the same.
