

Police arrested woman after chase from Highland Park to Frisco overnight

Posted by Sumit | January 28, 2019

Police officers arrested a woman after from Highland Park to Frisco overnight. The woman was a pickup truck driver carrying a car on a trailer.

À

According to Police, Natalie Butler pulled into the parking lot of Highland Park Village shopping center near Mockingbird Lane and Preston Road before midnight. When an off-duty officer looked something coming out of her trailer, he went closer to help her. It was then she drove off. The officer immediately called for help and asked several officers in marked squad cars to stop her but she refused to cooperate.

À

Police chased her from I- 30 to the LBJ Freeway and continued chasing her on I-35 and finally chased to the President George Bush Turnpike through the Collin County.

À

Natalie Butler has her right leg missing. She was taken into custody in Frisco when Farmers Branch Police officers dropped spike strips and strictly asked her to stop.