

Fort Worth: A New Baby giraffe born at Fort Worth Zoo

Posted by Sumit | May 15, 2019

Fort Worth Zoo welcomed a new baby giraffe at the Zoo. On Monday, the little one was born and increased the zoo's giraffe count to 8.

No official information about the gender of the baby has been given by the keeper yet. They are noticing baby and mother and how they are bonding with each other.

According to Zoo officers, it will take some time before the officers put the baby on display. They will soon announce the display date.

USA Today ranked Fort Worth Zoo No. 4 zoo in the nation and the No. 1 attraction in the DFW Metroplex by Zagat Survey.
