

Dallas: Daughter of ex-Dallas councilwoman Carolyn Davis dies from critical injuries

Posted by Sumit | July 18, 2019

Former Dallas city councilwoman and now her daughter declared dead due to deadly head-on crash Southeast Oak Cliff about 7:45 p.m. Monday on East Ledbetter Drive near Lancaster Road.

À

According to Dallas Police officers, 27-year old Melissa Lashan Davis-Nunn was declared dead on Tuesday. She was sitting with her mother, Carolyn Davis when an aggravated drunk driver crashed into their car on Monday night and killed both of them.

À

Joyce Wesley saw the crash and extended her helping hand to help. She went to the scene when Davis-Nunn was laying on her mother. She kept on saying that she needs to wake up. She even told Davis to pray. She informed her that the ambulance is on its way! Officers asked her to hang in there.

Moore has been charged with driving with a suspended license. Soon he was released from the hospital, officers, locked him in the Dallas County Jail. Earlier this year, Davis pleaded guilty of taking bribes from a real estate developer. She was also expected to be sentenced on Sept. 20 but now her case will be dismissed. No information on Funeral arrangements have been given so far.