

War Drama starring Hrithik Roshan and Tiger Shroff to have 4 stunt directors

Posted by Sumit | July 19, 2019

Siddharth Anand's War film starring Bollywood's action hero Hrithik Roshan and Tiger Shroff is one of the much-awaited films of the year that the fans are eagerly waiting ever since the filmmaker announced the making of this film. Where fans couldn't stop themselves from watching the film, both of the stars are equally excited for the film and have left no stone unturned to give their fans a visual treat. This film will have so many breath-taking action scenes and for this makers have decided to deliver the best action-film experience to the audience.

À

According to reports from the film directors, they have approached four action directors: Paul Jennings, Franz Spilhaus, SeaYoung Oh and Parvez Shaikh, all specialists in creating a different type of spectacular, breath-taking, never visualized before action stunts. Soon, these big action sequences will be revealed to the audiences, added film director.

Paul Jennings of Hollywood movies like The Dark Knight starring Christian Bale, San Andreas starring Dwayne Johnson, Jack Reacher starring Tom Cruise and the much loved HBO fantasy show Game of Thrones fame will add his spark to the movie.

SeaYoung Oh is known for designing hand to hand combat sequences, has shown his magic in films like Avengers: Age of Ultron, Pokemon XY, and Snowpiercer, and many more.

Franz Spilhaus of films like Safe House, Eye in the Sky, Death Race, and many more, while Parvez Shaikh marked his Bollywood debut with films like Tiger Zinda Hai, Jungle, Kesari, and Mary Kom to name a few.

This war drama will be shot in Arctic Circle and will have so many nail-biting action scenes. Under the production of Yash Raj Films, the high-action-packed film starring Vaani Kapoor will hit the screen on October 2 in Hindi, Tamil and Telugu languages.