Anupam Kher marked his Bollywood debut with Saaransh in 1984, wherein he was seen playing the role of a 65-year-old man at his tender age of 28. Despite his blockbuster start, his Bollywood™'s journey has seen so many complications and tribulations. After 35 years of marking his debut, Kher is one of the most loved actors of Industry who has not carved his niche in Bollywood but Hollywood also.

While giving an interview, Kher talked about his book and when asked if he would like to create his biopic in the form of a film, the actor said, he believes that if a film is made on his journey, then it will be the biggest blockbusters because his life is full of love, romance, comedy, failure, motivation, success, and failure again followed by success. If a film is made, then it will serve as a guide to deal with failure, sadness, and depression.

His career started when he was 28 but he played 68 so now, he can play himself and makers just need to find a younger version of him.
