

Dallas: Dallas Fort Worth students expected to return to school Monday with three-digit temperature

Posted by Sumit | August 19, 2019

The students of Dallas Independent School District and Fort Worth Independent School District are one amongst the dozens of districts resuming school on Monday, August 19.

À

Dallas ISD will be welcoming more than 155,000 students this new school year and more than 86,000 students in Fort Worth will surely love their class.

In districts including Arlington, DeSoto, Grand Prairie, Irving, Mesquite, and Rockwall, students are returning to their classes.

According to reports from sources, the first day of school in these districts is expected to be hotter with temperature nearly triple digits and no sign of rain.