Shilpa Shetty Kundra will be making her comeback after a long gap of 13 years. The actress will appear on the big screen with Sabbir Khan's action drama "Nikamma".

While giving an interview, the actress said that she has always been a part of this industry and will always continue to be a part in some way or the other. When you miss the limelight, you miss the Industry. You start feeling forgotten but she was never away from the screen. The sabbatical she took was self-imposed and a well-planned one.

Shilpa was last seen in 2007-hit Life In A... Metro and Apne.

When the actress was asked about what things that her son Vihaan should learn from Shilpa and her husband Raj, she replied and said that he should learn positivity from her and how to stay happy from his father, Raj.
