

Ayushmann Khurrana's Bala to release in Saudi Arabia on November 14. This is the first film of the actor to release in the Gulf country

Posted by Sumit | November 11, 2019

Ayushmann Khurrana's Bala is one of the most successful films of his career and now there is another feather attached to the success of this film. After becoming the biggest opener of the actor on its Day 1 of release, this film is all set to achieve Rs.50-crore mark in India. Not only this, Amar Kaushik's directorial is expected to release in Saudi Arabia. This is the first film of Ayushmann that will hit the screens of a desert country.

According to reports from the close sources, Bala has cleared Saudi Arabia censor and will be the first movie of the actor to release in #SaudiArabia on 14 Nov 2019. With this news, Bala box office collection is appreciating day by day in India as well.

Ayushmann has proved his versatility with his every film. He marked his space in the Industry after playing a sperm donor in Vicky Donor then he openly talked about erectile dysfunction in Shubh Mangal Saavdhan and now pre-mature balding in Bala.

The film starred Yami Gautam and Bhumi Pednekar and is now on its way to the screen of Saudi Arabia.