

Texas: Hood County man charged with murder and tampering with evidence in case of his

Posted by Sumit | December 05, 2019

A hood County man has been charged with murdering his wife who was missing for more than a month now.

À

Edward Pautenis, husband of 29-year-old Jennifer Pautenis was charged with murder and tampering with evidence on Monday.

À

According to the reports from the Authorities, they have found human remains (expected to be of Jennifer Pautenis). They have sent the remains for DNA testing.

À

Jennifer went missing since Oct. 20. She had two children and her family members believed that she could never leave because of her children.