Shah Rukh Khan was last seen in Aanand L Rai's 'Zero' sharing screen space with Anushka Sharma and Katrina Kaif. This time, Bollywood's Badshah is all set to visit the sets of a popular dance reality show. After SRK's box office debacle, the actor decided to spend some quality time with his family and read good scripts for his next.

Recently, this picture of the actor went viral on the Internet and we must say that SRK looked smart as ever in his white pathani suit. He looked dapper as arrived at the dance reality show in style. The 'Dilwale' actor carried his smiles while posing for the camera.

Some days back, it was rumored that SRK will join hands with Ali Abbas Zafar for a film but all rumors were dismissed later on. SRK has not yet announced his next project yet.
