Texas: Wylie High School community 'in shock' after the sudden death of their football star.

Posted by Sumit | January 30, 2020

A Wylie High School football star died and the questions still remain about how he died.

Today, a Counselor will be there at the high school to help students and staff cope with the sudden death of most-loved 18-year-old Azaan Abdellatif.

According to reports from the Family members, he was found dead Wednesday morning at his home in Murphy, located in the northeast Dallas.

No signs of foul play have been observed by the officers. No information on how he died has been released so far. Officers are working on this case with the Collin County Medical Examiner’s Office to find out what might have happened.

His family members are in shock. Friends took to their social media handle and asked everyone to send their prayers and support to his family. A vigil is planned on the high school campus today at 6 p.m.