

Who gave the best gift to Deepika Padukone on her birthday?

Posted by Sumit | January 31, 2018

Deepika Padukone celebrated her 32nd birthday in early days of this month. Although her boyfriend, Ranveer Singh was present all the time with her but he didn't give her the best birthday gift. Then who did this job?

À

Deepika Padukone playing the role of Rani Padmaavat in the film, Padmaavat got the best gift from the Central Board of Film Certification, CBFC. Yes, you read it right!!!

CBFC sent a certificate to the Rani Padmaavat (Deepika) on her special day, her birthday after the film was going through year-long controversies. After the exhausting battle, the movie had to pass through several modifications in order to get approval from the authoritative agencies. Her birthday became special when she received the certificate from CBFC.

The entire team of the movie, Padmaavat had to fight before it hit the theaters on January 25. Deepika was celebrating her birthday with full-mood when the director of the film, Sanjay Leela Bhansali called her up and informed her that the movie has got the certification from the censor board.

Deepika who is playing the role of Rani Padmavati in the film said that she was enjoying her day with her family when the director called her and gave her the best gift for her birthday. This gift was priceless and very precious for the Padukone.

Deepika has already received significant fame for her role in the movie. This film under the direction of Sanjay Leela Bhansali has crossed the record of Rs 100-crore mark in the local market.

The film was supposed to get released on December 1, 2017, but due to controversies, this film hit the screen on January 25.